THE VICTORY AT NEW ORLEANS.

The a canal barge. Above water her shape differs elightly, though not materially. The water comes up cabeat a foot on the iron, so that no part but the mai-clad is exposed. She has sixteen ports in all—three in the bow, three in the stern, four on one side and six on the other. Her constructor was Mr. Petree, formerly of the Gospert Navy Yard. She had on the merring of the 24th inst. tangues mounted. In the bow two eight-inch Pahigrens, in the centre ports a catty-four-pounder rifle. The same on the stern. On her broadnides four thirty-twos, rifled, and six eight-hach Dahlgrons. She was commanded by Capt in McIntosh, and Captan Mitchell was on board as Fing Officer. They were both in the pilot house, on the top of the vessel. She is plated on top with one-quarter inches tron. Her wood work under the iron plating is twenty-two inches, nard pine. She had a steam engine that was taken from the steamer Ingomar. Her wheels were thirty-eight feet in diameter, and located in the sealer of the boat, but near the stern, one behind the other. She was to have had have free feet propellers, one on each side, which are now on board, but not attached. The could not be propelled against the current of the ricer. She was manned by the Creacent Artillory, 140 man; harp shooters, 164; and a number of men were in a transport near by waiting to be put on board.

can be and the ships, which were burnt. The ship State of Maine was loaded with cotton. The ship Marshal had 200 bales on board.

The two rifled guns on the Loursiana each weight 14,000 pounds. The bore is seven inches. The breech of these guns were strapped by a steel band, three feet broad and two inches in thickness. These guns were manfactured in Richmond, Va.

After a hurried visit to the forts we passed down the river to get coal. Shirtly after our arrival the Iroqueis came down. Captam be camp informed me that he had gust received orders from the Faig Oilieer to take in coal and stores, and then to return to New Orleans to receive he as an effect of the light draught vessels will go up with the Iroqueis. At the time Heat the liagulier are definite pan had been adopted for further operations but of one thing I feet assured, it would not be bace before active operations would commence, either up the river, or at a place I will not mention at present for obvious reasons. Forts Pike and Livingston are chanloned, and the troops who forme by garrisone I then have gone to support Peauregard, i could learn mothing from the robels in relation to army inovenness. I surchased a newspay or of a youngstor who promised to bring me one or more every day, but I harned that he was imprisoned for selling me one, so I loss by that a heaper of the 20th. We filled up our coal bunkers and were ready to leave as soon as the morning dawned. Most of the morner feet, was despatched by Commander Porter to Havana on Eunday last, with the news of our passing the forts. The mows was incomplete, and the vessel was despatched without the Fing Officer's knowledge; and should any triffing news reach you before the arrival of this despatch, you may know how to care.

April 29, 1862.

Sm—I am happy to announce to you that our larguage over both Forts Jackson and St. Philip, and at New Orleans, over the Castom House. I am aking every means to secure the occupation by General Butler of all the forts along the cast. Berwick's Barrocasted Stampede. I shall endeavor to follow it up.
I am brunging up the troops as last as possible. We have descroyed all the forts above the city, four in number, which are understood to be all the impediments between this and Memphis. I am, very respectfully, the Commercial Matters of the City were Affected.

[From the New Orloans Crescent, April 28.]

Stumbar Nicit, April 28.—12 M.

To attempt anything of a general review this evening that week be of the least satisfactory nature, would be sateless; nevertheless, to keep up a record of events, imancial and commercial, we resume our weekly task.

We embrain hope that the juther in store for our city will went nevale us for all the touble and dependency which is more supersiding over the commenty.

At the date of our last week'y summary, the ports be sow the city were leveled, causing considerable anxiety a financial circles, particularly so much so that it was to the city were invested, causing considerable anxiety to manactal circles, perfectively so much so that it was deemed advisable by our manactors to take preliminary steps to piace their valeables in a mois safe pleas of security than the vanits were supposed to afford. Monday and Tuesday three of the banks redestred their circulation, others in part. On Wednesday a general request was received from the acthorities in Richmond for the banks to retrain from the further paying exit of coin. On the selay morning our community in general was astomeded to learn that several vessels of the federal fleet had passed the fort below. A general accuse of confusion and excitement ensued. Some of the tanks requested their departs, and declining to receive days far. At meredian two of the banks closed their doors, declining to transact any further business. Notes, of course, went unpaid, though there were few failing due. On Friday the excitement and panic were still further increased by the strivial of the enemy's vessels in front of the city. The banks were immediately closed, and have remained closed amos. When they will open again for regular business, it is impossible to prefect state of feedeal.

troat of the city. The backs were immediately closed, and have canaried clessed amoe. When they will open again for regular basiness, it is impossible to predict or feretall.

In the meantime, our currency is in perfect state of classes, though it is hoped the panic connected with it has come the covere, and that on Manday we may article a course, and that on Manday we may article a course, and that on Manday we may article a course, and that on Manday we may article of classes, of parties of horatolore standing and responsibility, we are not aware that the occurrences of the week, the disasters in our situation, will in the least waters or impair their solidity; yet it cannot be desired that measures should be taken to represe the further time of clange wote on the part of many subsect, of whose responsibility there are many doubts.

We cannot observe any impropriety in again suggesting that an association be formed by some dozen or more activally to issue small notes for notes of large denominations. The proceeds of these change notes to be held in trust for the redemption of the same. A fluctuating currency is insulational actual the daily routine of currents unovenients. If we could return portherin to a quarte currency, it would redomed to the good of all. True, without the course of the large denominations of delian of the confidence of the present abundance. The part of our banks (provided they do spea doors again) must be for the present abundanced delians of the confidence of the present abundanced. In many indunce, during the gast fine day, there has been discarding of the general currency of the confidence, it would return to the present position of affairs. In all probability there may pessibly college partial recumptions in dealings in coin, that is, if all the coin in private hands and outside parties has not always indunce, during the burnary of often, the braid-large work of affairs. PIFFMAN'S FERRY, Ark., May 8, 1862. Two gentlemen who have been in the South since the commencement of the blockide arrived here to-day. They left Memphis two wocks since, coming to Jackson Tuesday, but her officers learning that our troops were marching on that town, she immediately started down Provisions, clothing and all kinds of merchandisc are very scarce throughout the South. Tennesses money is at a premium of 20 per cent, and gold 100 per cent. Drafting for the army is going on, regardless of position, and many Union men are flying to the mountains and awamps. Fort Pillow is the only defonce on the Mississippi that is considered secure on the water eide. General Price's army bis gone to Fort Pillow and Corinth. The force at Corinth is supposed to be one hundred and ton thousand. Fifteen beats are now at Little Rock, taking on board twelve thousand Arkanass troops for Corinth. The rivers have been very high, and Napoison is now flowded.

This is another, and one of the Lost of Mrs. Wood's on ordinary novels. The authorers has supplanted, in popestimation, nearly all the novelsts of the day. There be no difficulty in accounting for this after reading any of her works she possesses the great secret or riveting at iton—an carnest style; and this, combined with deep treat, striking but not essagarated incidents, and instrafter, "The Her to Ashley" is a pleasant story for any and has no line in it which the most rigid mornist we cars to crase. Published by DICK & FITAGIRALD,
